12:30 p.m.  Lunch

12:30–1:45 p.m.  Session Three:
Financial and Regulatory Aspects of Homeownership—Financial Markets

- Why did financial institutions and policymakers systematically underestimate the risks in mortgages? Who currently bears these risks? (homeowners? banks? the government?) Who should bear the risk?
- What is the proper role for sophisticated financial products such as mortgage-backed securities, collateralized-debt obligations, and credit-default swaps and other derivatives?
- What is the proper role for government—in mortgage markets? in regulating traditional banks and shadow banking? in providing liquidity and funding through GSEs? in controlling interest rates?
- How can financial markets facilitate homeownership without creating housing bubbles or systemic risk?

INTRODUCTORY COMMENTS:
Alfred Pollard, General Counsel, Federal Housing Finance Agency
Steven L. Schwarcz, Stanley A. Star Professor of Law and Business, Duke University
Peter J. Wallison, Arthur F. Burns Fellow in Financial Market Studies, American Enterprise Institute

MODERATOR:

2:00–3:15 p.m.  Session Four: Addressing the Foreclosure Crisis

- What is the extent of the foreclosure crisis today?
- What is being done and what should be done about the “shadow inventory” in the U.S.?
- What can and should communities do to address the vacant and abandoned property problems generated by foreclosures?
- Is mortgage modification a viable option for Americans who are underwater on their mortgages and what are the obstacles to modification?
- Is additional regulatory reform needed to address these problems?

INTRODUCTORY COMMENTS:
Pete Buttigieg, Mayor, South Bend, Indiana
David A. Dana, Kirkland & Ellis Professor of Law, Northwestern University School of Law
Craig S. Nickerson, President, National Community Stabilization Trust
