Application Instructions

Instructions to Apply to the LL.M. in U.S. Studies or the LL.M. in London:

2017-2018

The Notre Dame Law School LL.M. program employs a whole-person review philosophy to create a class from a large number of highly qualified applicants. We seek to enroll multi-dimensional students from around the world with a wide range of talents, backgrounds, experiences, accomplishments, and points of view. Academic ability, as reflected in the academic performance in school, is important; however, the Law School considers a broad array of elements in addition to quantitative measures. Those involved in the admission process are mindful of the School’s objective to produce lawyers who are competent, compassionate, and committed to serving their clients with integrity.

Notre Dame Law School (NDLS) begins accepting applications on September 1 for the next fall entering class. As admission and scholarship decisions are made on a rolling basis, we recommend prospective applicants read the following directions closely and consider applying early in the application cycle.

Please note: If you wish to apply to the LL.M. in International Human Rights, do not use this application. Instead, see humanrights.nd.edu.

Application Dates

Applications may be submitted beginning September 1; the application deadline is April 1. All supporting documents (letters of recommendations, personal statements, etc.) must be timely submitted.

General Requirements

- This application form
- A Juris Doctor from an A.B.A. approved American law school or a Bachelor’s Degree in Law from an accredited college or university
- Personal Statement addressing your specific interest in the LL.M. in U.S. Legal Studies program at Notre Dame Law School or the LL.M. in London
- Resume
- Two Letters of Recommendation
- English Language Proficiency
- Application fee

See below for additional information concerning the general requirements.

First Degree in Law

All applicants must have a first degree in law to be considered for the LL.M.

Personal Statement

We give considerable emphasis in our evaluation to the personal statement. The statement should provide us with insights about the applicant and the applicant’s specific interest in pursuing an LL.M. at Notre Dame Law School. Applicants often use the personal statement to provide further insight into their personality, interests, or matters that are not fully present in other parts of the application. Applicants may wish to address how their background, experiences, personal character, and/or career aspirations align with the legal education that NDLS provides and how the LL.M. at Notre Dame Law School can assist the applicant in both professional and personal formation.

The personal statement must be the applicant's original work in their own words. It should not exceed three double spaced pages. The personal statement must be included in the application at the time of submission. The personal statement's header must include the applicant's name, LSAC account number, and be titled “Personal Statement.”

Resume

An applicant's resume should highlight their educational, work, leadership, and service experiences. The applicant may also wish to highlight honors, awards, or special skills. While there is no page limit for the resume, one to two pages is typical.

Two Letters of Recommendation
We require applicants to submit two letters of recommendation. Applicants may submit up to four, if desired.

The applicant's letters of recommendation should come from individuals who can evaluate the applicant's candidacy both in regards to academic skills and personal qualities. At least one letter, and preferably two, should be from individuals who have taught the applicant in law. We realize that some applicants, especially those who have been out of school for a number of years, may have difficulty meeting this request. In such cases, letters from employers/supervisors or others who have worked closely with the applicant is sufficient.

The applicant is required to use the LSAC Letter of Recommendation Service that is part of LSAC's Credential Assembly Service (CAS) registration. LSAC will include these letters with the CAS report. Please note that LSAC will not release the CAS report until two recommenders have submitted their letters. LSAC will send further CAS reports if additional recommenders are included at a later time.

English Language Proficiency Requirement

Applicants from non-English-speaking countries must take the TOEFL or the IELTS. The TOEFL is the preferred test. Applicants who have received a post-secondary degree from a U.S. college or university (BA, MA, PhD, MBA, etc.) are exempt from this requirement. If the applicant has an extraordinary ability for the English language (have worked as a translator, taught English, received a post-secondary degree from a college or university in an English-speaking country, etc.), the applicant may request a waiver from this requirement. Please submit your request to the Office of Admissions at bulletin@nd.edu.

The minimum score required for the TOEFL is 100 on the internet-based test.

The minimum score required for the IELTS is 7 on a 9 point scale from the Academic Modules.

We prefer that an applicant sit for the test within one year of the time that they apply to the Law School.

Applicants must have copies of the official TOEFL or IELTS report forwarded to LSAC directly from the testing service. Please do not send official score reports to Notre Dame Law School unless specifically requested.

Application Fee

An application fee of $75 US is required. You may submit the application fee online along with your application through LSAC.

Interviews and Campus Events

Select applicants may be invited to phone or online video interviews. However, interviews are not a regular or required part of the admissions process. The application and supporting documents should provide the Admissions Committee with the kind of information typically provided in an interview. If an applicant participated in an informational interview or attended a Notre Dame Law School recruiting event prior to submission of this application, the applicant should indicate so in the appropriate sections of the application form.

Notice of Non-Discrimination

The University of Notre Dame does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, disability, veteran status, genetic information, or age in the administration of any of its educational programs, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, athletic and other school-administered programs, or in employment.

The University of Notre Dame strives to maintain a community characterized by a respect for others. At a minimum, this means a community that is free from sexual and discriminatory harassment. Our culture of respect means that no type of sexual or discriminatory harassment is tolerated, and all incidents of intolerant or disrespectful conduct will be addressed. The University is dedicated to responding quickly and thoroughly to all reports of sexual or discriminatory harassment, and to enforcing the University’s Non-Retaliation Policy to protect those who report and/or are involved in an investigation of sexual or discriminatory harassment.

Notre Dame is committed to building an inclusive community and welcomes all people, regardless of gender, religion, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, social or economic class, nationality, disability, or age.

All prospective students are encouraged to read the University’s Spirit of Inclusion statement as well as the University’s policies for reporting discriminatory harassment.

The University has designated the Director of its Office of Institutional Equity to handle all inquiries regarding its efforts to comply with and carry out its responsibilities under Title IX and under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The Title
IX and Section 504 coordinator may be contacted as follows:

Character and Fitness

Please check “Yes” or “No” for each question. If the answer to questions 1 and/or 2 is “Yes,” you must submit a full explanation of circumstances involved and resolution of the situation for each question so answered as an electronic attachment. Please double-space your explanation and label the attachment with your name, LSAC account number, and use the title “Character and Fitness” in the header.

If you answer "No" to these questions now but later engage in an action that would have caused you to answer "Yes" to either of the Character and Fitness questions, you must update the Office of Admissions regarding the incident. Please send updates to bulletin@nd.edu.

In addition to a bar examination, there are character, fitness, and other qualifications for admission to the bar in every U.S. jurisdiction. Applicants are encouraged to determine the requirements for any jurisdiction in which they intend to seek admission by contacting the jurisdiction. Addresses for all relevant agencies are available through the National Conference of Bar Examiners.

Certification

I certify that the information I have provided or will provide in support of my application, including any material that I have submitted to LSAC or Notre Dame Law School, is true, complete, and my own original work; that I will notify the Notre Dame Law School immediately if there is any change in information that I have provided in the application or if new information arises, including with respect to Character and Fitness issues; that I am the author of the statements or additional information included with the application; and that I understand the statements made herein are part of the basis upon which my application will be decided. In the event that any information is subsequently found to be false, or if I withhold material information, I understand that my acceptance may be voided and my matriculation and degree canceled and withdrawn. If I am a graduating college senior, I understand that any offer of acceptance and/or scholarship is conditional upon the successful completion of my bachelor's degree at an academic level commensurate with my performance at the time of submitting this application. I understand that the Law School reserves the right to place further conditions on offers of admission and/or scholarship as it deems necessary. I understand that the Law School does not authorize, nor is it bound, by any requirements or conditions other than those communicated in writing by the Notre Dame Law School. LSAC is authorized to transmit this electronic signature and my law school application.

I acknowledge the above
