

LL.M. in International Human Rights Law Elective Courses

(*will also include credits for participation in clinical offerings related to human rights. Elective courses will be offered depending on the availability of faculty coverage.)

12 to 17 credits

- Civil Rights
- Economic, Social and Cultural Rights
- Regional Human Rights Protection Seminar
- Comparative Law or Comparative Legal Traditions
- Human Rights LLM Thesis
- International Human Rights Research
- Human Rights, Sustainability, and the Global Commons
- Human Rights and the Global Economy
- International and Comparative Labor Law
- Alternative Dispute Resolution
- International Dispute Resolution
- Advanced Topics in Workplace Law
- Bioethics and the Law
- Biodiversity and the Law
- Business and Human Rights
- Catholic Social Thought and the Law
- Community Development Clinic
- Comparative Constitutional Law
- Comparative Legal Traditions
- Cybercrime Law/Cyber Crime Seminar
- Economic Justice Clinic
- Ethics and Law at End of Life
- Environmental Law
- European Union Law
- Freedom of Religion/Freedom of Religion Seminar
- Freedom of Speech
- Gender Issues and International Law Seminar
- Health Care Issues in Canon Law
- Health Law
- Human Trafficking
- Immigration Law
- Inequality, Efficiency, and the Corporation
- Information Privacy Law
- International Arbitration (London program)
- International Criminal Law
- International Environmental Law
- International Human Rights Advocacy
- International Law and Children's Rights
- International Law and the Use of Force
- Judicial Politics
- Judicial Process
- Introduction to the American Legal System
- Introduction to Canon Law
- Language and the Law
- Law and Cultural Heritage
- Law and Disabilities
- Law and Human Development in Practice
- Law and Morality in Contemporary Jurisprudence
- Law of Education
- Legal Remedies for Human Trafficking
- Morality and the Law
- Natural Resources Law
- Race and Policing
- Transnational Corporations and Human Rights
- Water Law

For more information about the Human Rights LL.M. program from our faculty director, Diane Desierto, please view this document.