de Nicola Center for Ethics and Culture, University of Notre Dame: Director (July 2012 to July 2024).

The de Nicola Center for Ethics and Culture is dedicated to sharing the richness of the Catholic moral and intellectual tradition through academic research, publications and programming; student formation; public engagement; and by supporting university faculty hiring and retention, at the highest level across a variety of disciplines. Some selected accomplishments include:

- Created the "Notre Dame Sorin Fellows" student formation program in 2014 that provides individualized mentorship, academic programming, and paid summer domestic and international internships to ND graduate and undergraduate students. The program has grown from 12 students in 2014 to 700 students in 2024.
- Built the annual "Fall Conference" into the largest interdisciplinary academic event at Notre Dame, drawing over 100 speakers and 1000 participants every year including Nobel Laureate Jim Heckman, Michael Sandel, Robert Pogue Harrison, Simon Conway Morris, Charles Taylor, Alasdair MacIntyre, Remi Brague, Msgr. Timothy Verdon, Etsuro Sotoo, Lorenza Violini, Patrizia Giunti, Mary Ann Glendon, and numerous academic and public intellectual luminaries. Created a Graduate Student Symposium for the Fall Conference.
- Created 4 award-winning book series with University of Notre Dame Press including "Catholic Ideas for a Secular World," "Notre Dame Studies in Bioethics and Medical Ethics," the "Center for Ethics and Culture Solzhenitsyn Series" (which by special arrangement with the Solzhenitsyn family has the exclusive rights to release unpublished and previously untranslated works of Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn), and Notre Dame Studies in African Theology. Forty titles published as of 2024.
- Hosted numerous (~50) academic events and conferences every year in partnership with domestic and international partners including the Sorbonne, University of Florence, University of Milan, Oxford University, Harvard University, Stanford University, and Duke University.

- Created a ~40 member Notre Dame Faculty Advisory Committee/Faculty Fellows program including several department chairs and one College Dean.
- Raised funds for 9 new professorships (4 entry-level, 1 mid-level, 2 chair-level, and 2 professors of the practice), offered to departments on a competitive basis.
- Provide funding to departments and colleges to recruit, retain, hire faculty of all rank and all levels. Funded 11 faculty members in multiple colleges.
- Created and endowed new annual fellowships for Notre Dame PhD ("Solomon Fellowship") and law students ("Polking Family Fellowship").
- Responsible for raising all expendable and endowed funds for the Center, including the $10M naming endowment (announced in 2019) and more than $18M in faculty lines. Increased endowed funds associated with the dCEC twelvefold through new gifts raised from over 800 benefactors, totaling more than $55M. Nearly $80M raised in total new gifts.
- Grew full-time staff from 3 employees to 11, reorganized operations/staff structure, and crafted and implemented new strategic plan.
